

Practicing English through Podcasts and 'Khan Academy' Presentations

Project Title	Practicing English through Podcasts and 'Khan Academy' Presentations
Project Summary	Create original content for a podcast series for learners of English. Produce "Khan Academy" tutorials about English language grammar points for learners to access in a flipped style classroom.
Country	Pakistan
Agency	Department of State
DoS Office	N/A
Post	ISLAMABAD
Section	PAS
Number of Interns	2

Project Description

The Regional English Language Office (RELO) office in Islamabad is looking to create original content in two projects:

1. podcasts for learners of English to practice and study English virtually (the type of podcast can be discussed. Possibilities include a story series that encourages learners to tune in to the next chapter, stand alone topics that give insight into some aspect of American life, or other). Comprehension questions and discussion questions should be included as supplemental material. RELO has guidance for these.
2. 'Khan Academy' type explanations of English language grammar for flipped classroom learning (using EduCreations or similar app). RELO has several draft versions of such explanations that can be recreated for this internship

This content will be highlighted on social media and also made available as part of a package of materials for teachers of English and learners of English throughout Pakistan and beyond.

Desired Skills Interests

Additional Information

We're looking for creativity in:

- English language teaching
- social media technologies and creative apps (such as EduCreations, Adobe Voice and other apps identified by RELOPakistan)
- preparing materials for world-wide audiences via virtual technologies.

Language Requirements

None